Kerri Powers

*Gritty vocals and songs that brim with emotion and longing —
Americana roots music at its best*

Saturday, May 2, 2026 at 7:30 pm

Theodore Parker Church Parish Hall

1859 Centre St. (corner of Corey St.), West Roxbury, MA 02132

Kerri's effective as an alt-country, blues & soulful vocalist but also stylistic with bittersweet jazz narratives... There aren't many vocalists who tackle this kind of showcase.

— John Apice, Americana Highways

With her powerful voice and prodigious guitar skills, Kerri Powers can do it all – blues, soul, original folk rock, and even a twang of country folk.

Kerri was a regular in her teens and twenties in New England, then took time off to raise a family. In 2014, she jumped back into the music scene and has been unstoppable ever since. Her album "Love Is Why" hit the Roots Music Report Chart as the #1 Acoustic Blues Album in 2023, and her single, "When it Rains," held the #1 spot for rock song for several weeks.

Kerri not only plays the usual clubs and festivals around the country; she also teaches at WUMB's Summer Acoustic Music Week.

Admission $25, $15 for under age 21. Please pay by cash, cards accepted if necessary.
